t'way Air to Launch New Service on Narita - Jeju Route from 2 September !

t'way Air (IATA code: TW) will launch a new service between Narita and Jeju from 2 September 2017.

t'way Air commenced operations at Narita in March 2016 and has rapidly increased flight schedule to operate 10 weekly flights to Seoul Incheon and also daily to Daegu. The new Jeju service will be the airline's third destination to South Korea from Narita Airport in just a year and a half since starting operations at Narita.

Jeju is a very popular resort destination that attracts a large number of tourists domestically in South Korea and from overseas, and is often called "the Hawaii of Korea" for the many marine activities the island offers in summer from surfing to diving. Jeju is also popular for hiking tours to its World Natural Heritage sites where visitors can observe the clearly defined four seasons and its transition.

Narita Airport is delighted with the t'ways network expansion which would allow the passengers to go to Jeju everyday from Narita with the existing flights to Jeju.

Travelers are invited to take advantage of Narita's extensive network, soon to be expanded further by the launch of this new t'way Air service.
