- Nagasaki Now a New Destination from Narita Airport -

Jetstar Japan (IATA code: GK) will start a daily flight service to Nagasaki from their base hub Narita Airport from 6 September 2018. Nagasaki is a new destination for Narita Airport's flight network. From their base Narita Airport, Jetstar Japan operates to 4 overseas destinations (Hong Kong, Taipei, Manila and Shanghai) and 10 domestic destinations (Sapporo (New Chitose), Osaka (Kansai), Takamatsu, Matsuyama, Fukuoka, Oita, Kumamoto, Miyazaki, Kagoshima and Okinawa (Naha). It flies to more domestic cities than any other airline operating at Narita Airport.

Nagasaki is located in the Northwest region of Kyushu island and is blessed with plentiful tourism resources. With such places as Dejima, the port of entry for trade from the West in the Edo period and the World Heritage listed Glover Garden the site of a residence built in the Meiji period. Nagasaki's popularity is set to grow with the forthcoming filing for the World Heritage of their "Hidden Christian Sites in the Nagasaki and Amakusa Region" this summer. The international flavor of Nagasaki is also reflected in their local food culture. "Champon" (noodles with seafood and other ingredients), "Sara udon" (Nagasaki-style noodles with various toppings) and "Shippoku" cuisine are unique flavors to Nagasaki often referred to as Wa(和)-Ka(華)-Ran(蘭) (Japanese-Chinese-Western fusion).

The new service to Nagasaki expands the network from Narita to all seven prefectures in Kyushu and increases the domestic destinations to 21 airports! Hope you can plan your domestic travel also from Narita.
