

Jin Air to Launch Double Daily Narita - Seoul (Incheon) Service on 1 July !

Tokyo, 11 May 2016 : Narita International Airport Corporation (NAA) is delighted to announce that Jin Air (IATA code: LJ) will launch a new service between Tokyo (Narita) and Seoul (Incheon) on 1 July 2016.

Jin Air is a Korean low cost carrier established in 2008 by Korean Air and this will be its first service to Greater Tokyo area. The double daily service will not only tap into the growing demand for air travel to Japan from Korea, it will also offer a greater choice of options for Japan outbound travelers to suit their plans.

For Narita Airport, Jin Air flights will bring the number of services on the Narita - Seoul (Incheon) route to 126 flights a week (18 flights a day) thereby offering greater convenience for our customers.

With yet one more addition to Narita's extensive network, why not take advantage of our unparalleled choice of carriers.
